GREETINGS ST. IGNATIUS ALUMNI! SHOWS, BAZAARS, WALKS & SOCIALS

Greetings St. Ignatius Alumni! I hope this finds you all doing well as the first two months of the new school year have zipped by and we have already reached half term! Thanks to all those who supported all the different events last year, and to all those who attended the BBQ lunch this past Saturday in support of the Confirmation group!

As we look ahead, we have our next St. Ignatius drama production, 'A Midsummer Night's Dream', taking place from November 19th-21st. Our annual Christmas Fundraiser is also underway, with the big prize of $25,000 for one lucky person! We also have our annual Christmas social, as well as our annual breakfast! We hope you will get involved in many of the upcoming activities! Please see the following pages for all the dates and details!

Below you will find the seventeenth edition of "Where are they now???", featuring the new YCLA recipient Kellie McGee, Class of 2004. Let me know if you want to volunteer to be featured in the next edition!

This is our first edition of "THE IG-FORMER" for this school year, (our nineteenth edition overall). The deadline for the next edition will be in January. Please contact our e-mail address: sicaymanalumni@gmail.com with your suggestions or comments.

PAST ST. IGNATIUS STUDENTS ... WHERE ARE THEY NOW???

St. Ignatius alumnus Kellie McGee (Class of 2004) was the recipient of the Young Caymanian Leadership Award during a gala dinner at the Ritz-Carlton on October 17th. FOUR NEW ACCOUNTANTS AND A LAWYER

The Cayman Islands Society of Professional Accountants celebrated 45 years at its annual gala evening on Saturday, October 10th.

At the conclusion of the night, there was a celebration for four past St. Ignatius students, Matthew Hale, Jerrica Merren, Claire O’Dea, and Taylor Wight, who all recently attained their professional accounting designations.

These four are the latest in a long line of St. Ignatius students who have successfully studied accounting and made it their full time profession.

St. Ignatius alumnus Travis Ritch (Class of 2004) was admitted to the Cayman Islands Bar during a ceremony at the court house on September 17th. A number of former St. Ignatius students are now employed by local law firms.

Congratulations to these five former students!
